Dear Parent / Carers

Comic Relief

Like many schools, we will be raising money for comic relief this year and we have several events on this day so we can have fun raising money. We will be inviting children to come to school on Friday in "Funny Mufti" (however that is interpreted!). We want to see silly hair and outrageous clothes (wear them back to front, inside out or go bright and bold!). We are asking for a donation to the charity of 50p or more per child. The link for payment through parent pay is below.

Biscuits for sale! Ed's Red Nosey biscuits will also be available on this day at an additional cost of 50p, made by Sue, our cook. Please ensure your child brings 50p on the day if they would like an Ed'd Nosey biscuit. Only 1 biscuit per child.

Comic relief in class:

Why did the teacher wear sunglasses inside?

Because the pupils were so bright!

On Friday we will be supporting comic relief by encouraging our children to share jokes with each other. Please support your child to practise telling their favourite jokes at home so they are confident and ready to share them with their class. The funniest jokes will be selected and each class will make their own page for our whole school joke book. We can't wait to read all the children's jokes, here are a few from the teachers.

Why was the math sad?

It had so many problems!

Why did the boy eat his homework?

Because his teacher said it was a piece of cake.

Yours faithfully
